The 50th Yearbook

You are holding the 50th edition of the Boston Red Sox Official Yearbook. For the history of this annual 'Sox Fans' Bible' — including nearly 200 images from past editions — see the feature story, Getchya Yeahbook!

A New Day

On December 20, 2001, Boston Red Sox CEO John Harrington announced that the Yawkey Trust would sell the fabled franchise for $660 million to a group headed by John Henry, Tom Werner and Larry Lucchino.

At their first press conference, Friday, December 21, 2001, the leaders made five fundamental commitments to Red Sox fans and New England residents:

- 1) To field a team worthy of their support, with players whose performance and conduct will make them proud.*
- 2) To preserve all that is good about the Fenway Park experience and to take that experience to new levels of warmth and hospitality.*
- 3) To market aggressively and creatively the Red Sox throughout Boston, the Commonwealth and all of New England.*
- 4) To be active participants in the community in terms of charitable and philanthropic activities.*
- 5) To bring a World Series Championship back to Boston and New England.*

On January 16, 2002, Major League Baseball approved the new group and the transfer. Welcome, then, to 2002 and a new day for the Red Sox.

It Happens Every Spring

was first published in 1951, again in 1952, and then took a two-year vacation break before returning in 1955 and annually every spring, every season since then. Do the simple math and you'll find that, in 2002, the Yearbook is celebrating its 50th edition.

For a little perspective, in 1951, the Red Sox had already played more than 50 seasons, the NBA and NFL were, relatively, new kids – teething like the first wave of baby boomers, Harry Truman was president, Dwight Evans was born later that year in November... and, Rickey Henderson was not born for another seven years.

It was a radically different media world for Red Sox fans – television had just made its debut in Boston in 1948, it would be another three years until Sports Illustrated was launched, another 33 years before NESN would reach cable TV and another 42 years before redsox.com hit the internet.

The Yearbook was thus, at its inception and for many ensuing years, just about the only place

Red Sox fans could turn to get photos as well as authoritative info on their favorite players.

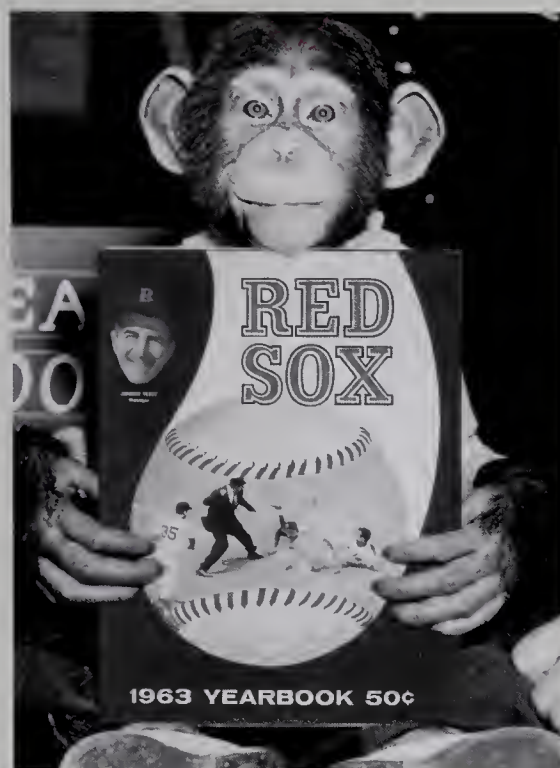

Today, the 2002 Yearbook continues the tradition of being the only official Red Sox publication to feature four-color 'player page' photos of each Red Sox on the major league squad in addition to photos of the manager and coaches, hot prospects on the farm and behind-the-scenes staff. That makes the Yearbook a unique 'stand-alone' product as well as an ideal companion for fans to use to enhance following their Sox on TV and radio all season long.

The Red Sox Yearbook is believed to be the longest continually-published consumer magazine in Massachusetts, and is read by an estimated one million people a year... and not just at Fenway Park. As the only Sox official publication sold on newsstands, it is (along with the Sports Illustrated swimsuit issue), one of New England's two top-selling single issue magazines annually.

Enjoy your 2002 Yearbook, and your trip down memory lane in Getchya Yeahbook!

The caption from the '64 Yearbook noted a new Red Sox fan – Zippy, "...who insisted on keeping the Red Sox Yearbook." You should too!

THE 2002 YEARBOOK weighs in at an all-time record 136-pages, plus a six-page 'gatefold' cover, the first-ever edition with a gatefold and perfect-bound cover. Approximately 450 separate photographic images are featured – including, with Zippy and Wally the Green Monster, 500+ discernible faces – which shatters the previous record. Produced entirely digitally, this Yearbook consumes more than 20 gigabytes of computer memory. The price remains at $10.

For comparison, in 1951 the Yearbook cost 50 cents and a loaf of bread about 10 cents. In 2002, that same loaf costs about $2.00 – a 20x increase, the same level increase as the Yearbook price. However, while you get the same number of bread slices these days, the 2002 Yearbook has nearly three times the number of pages, and bread is not produced in four-color. For additional copies, send $15.00 per book to: Yearbook, P.O. Box 1616, Boston, MA 02130. Enjoy!

DOUBLE GOLD AWARD
Laphroaig 30 Year Old

GOLD AWARD
Ballantine's Gold Seal Scotch

DOUBLE GOLD AWARD
Tullamore Dew 12 YO Irish Whiskey

Champions from the "World Series of Whiskey"

...with exceptional cigar pairings

The San Francisco World Spirits Competition is the "world series" of the beverage industry. And these whiskies are all rated MVPs in their respective categories.

Enjoy Laphroaig 10 Year Old's distinctively peaty flavor while drawing in the woody taste, coffee notes and creamy finish of a Padron 1964 Anniversary Imperial. For the exceptionally rare, super-premium Laphroaig 30 Year Old Single Islay Malt, select a Padron 1964 Anniversary Torpedo for its almost perfect draw and nutty, cocoa-cream taste.

For the full, mellow taste of Ballantine's Gold Seal, we recommend Padron 4000's rich flavors of cedar and cocoa, with a floral aroma. And to accompany Tullamore Dew 12 Year Old's legendary triple-distilled smoothness, light up a Padron 1964 Anniversary Exclusivo for its perfect draw and burn, rich, peppery smoke and heavy nutty flavor.

Great whiskies and great cigars; here's to the enjoyment of life's finer rewards!

"Getchya Yeahbook!"

...Getchya Red Sox Yeahbook!... You can't tell the playahs without yaah Yeeeaahhhhbook!"

SINCE 1951, THE 'BAHSTON ACCENT' VOICES of Fenway Park hawkers have bellowed out the "Getchya Yeahbook!" refrain. And, each season, the Boston Red Sox Official Yearbook has been a baseball photo lover's dream — helping generations of fans "...tell the playahs" from one another.

Granted, some Red Sox players are a bit more recognizable than others. But, fifty years hence, when you recall right field fixture Dwight Evans, will you still be able to "tell" pitcher Bill Evans from catcher Al Evans? The Yearbook can help restore the imperfect recall, as each Evans and hundreds of other Sox personnel have appeared 'for posterity' in one or more annual edition.

In fact, reviewing the entire Red Sox Yearbook collection is like discovering a time capsule — players and notable moments frozen in time return to life, offering fans an intimate opportunity to resurrect their own personal Sox remembrances.

For fifty seasons, there's really been nothing like the Yearbook, perhaps the ultimate Red Sox souvenir. Newspapers are recycled daily and TV highlight shows fade out with the click of the remote, but Sox fans keep their Yearbooks on the bookshelf — just an arm's length, an arm chair and a thousand Red Sox memories away.

So grab a comfy seat and please enjoy this condensed 'all-time' Yearbook photo collection. And a bit of friendly advice: Do remember to every season, and keep 'em.

ON THE FOLLOWING PAGES...
captions for each photographic image are followed by an italicized numeral in brackets — such as ['88YB] — denoting the Yearbook edition in which the photo appeared. Please know the Yearbook is issued near the start of each season — so that's why Yastrzemski and Lonborg

Ellis Kinder, first-ever player to appear in the Yearbook, led the AL in '51 in Relief Wins (11) and SV (14) and posted a 2.55 ERA. ['51YB]

Getcha Yeahbook!

1951 was the last year that the four mainstays from the great Sox teams of the '40s (Williams, DiMaggio, Doerr and Pesky) played together.

Ted Williams led the AL in Slugging Average (.556) in '51, while batting .318 with 30 HR and 126 RBI. ['51YB]

Bobby Doerr hit .289 in 1951 — his last of 14 big league seasons, all with the Red Sox. ['51YB]

Dom DiMaggio led the AL in Runs in both '50 (131) and '51 (113). ['52YB]

Williams and '51 manager Lou Boudreau instruct some hot prospects. ['52YB]

Curt Gowdy was "...a new name to many New England sports fans" in '51. ['51YB]

The term "Yearbook" was not mentioned in the '51 edition, then appeared on the '52 cover. The '53-54 gap might be attributed to the Korean War, where Williams and other ball players served much of the '52 and '53 seasons.

WBZ 4 NEWS

WBZ MEANS NEWS

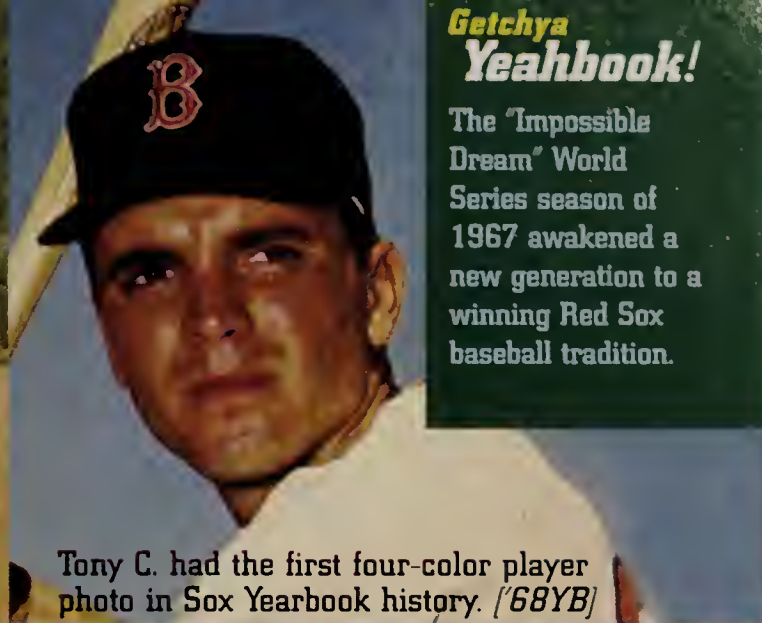

The "Impossible Dream" World Series season of 1967 awakened a new generation to a winning Red Sox baseball tradition.

Carl Yastrzemski won the '67 AL MVP and earned the last Triple Crown in the majors — .326, 44 HR and 121 RBI. ['68YB]

Jim Lonborg won the '67 AL Cy Young Award with an AL-leading 22 Wins; he also had 2 complete game wins in the World Series. ['68YB]

Tony C. had the first four-color player photo in Sox Yearbook history. ['68YB]

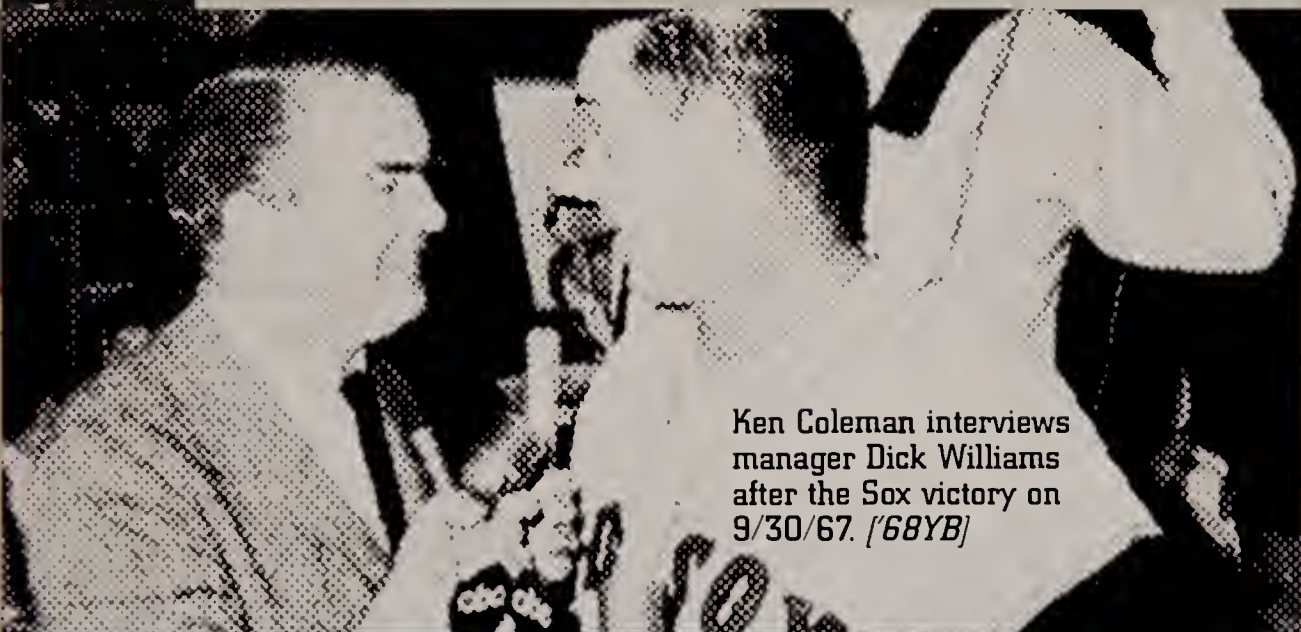

Rico Petrocelli snags the game-ending pop-up on 10/1/67 that clinched at least a tie for the AL pennant. ['68YB]

John Wyatt was a star in relief in '67, with 10 W and 20 SV. ['67YB]

George Scott hit .303 and won his first of three Gold Gloves at first base in '67. ['68YB]

Ken Coleman interviews manager Dick Williams after the Sox victory on 9/30/67. ['68YB]

Tony C., beamed on 8/18/67, wouldn't return 'til '69. ['68YB]

Ken Harrelson replaced Tony C. in '67, then hit 35 HR with an AL-best 109 RBI in '68. ['68YB]

Lonborg and Yastrzemski enjoyed the brief tie for first... a Tigers' loss three hours later made the Sox champions. ['68YB]

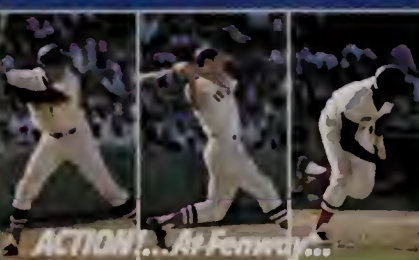

Each Yearbook since the '60 edition had been printed on glossy stock, but for '67 it was back to non-glossy... and '67 is also the only edition ever with a 'landscape-style' format. The '68 edition introduced four-color interior player photos... 27 in all (all of the Sox top stars) as well as four-color interior ads. While the page count remained at 48 interior pages, the '68 edition doubled in price to $1.00.

Getchya Yeahbook!

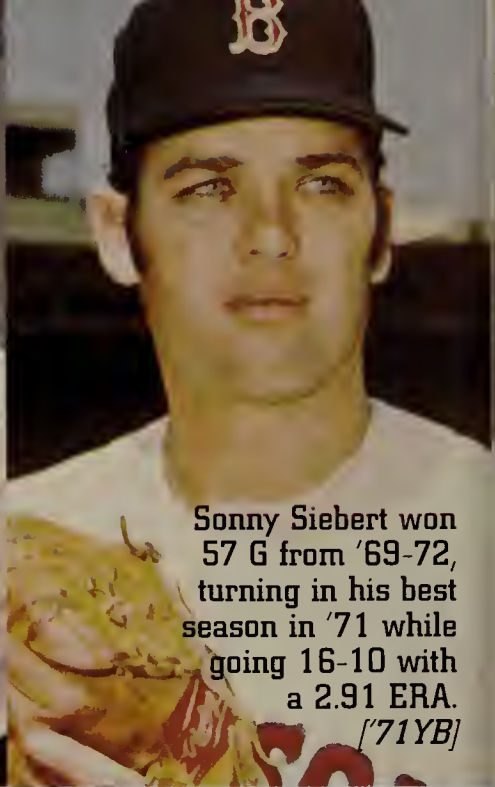

From '69-74, the Sox never finished worse than 3rd... new players like Fisk, Evans and a rehabbed Tiant set their sites higher.

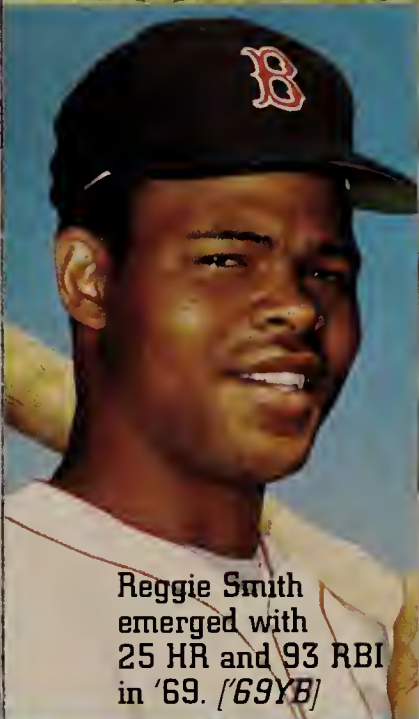

Doug Griffin won a Gold Glove in '72 at second base. ['72YB]

Ray Culp won 64 G from '68-71. ['69YB]

Sonny Siebert won 57 G from '69-72, turning in his best season in '71 while going 16-10 with a 2.91 ERA. ['71YB]

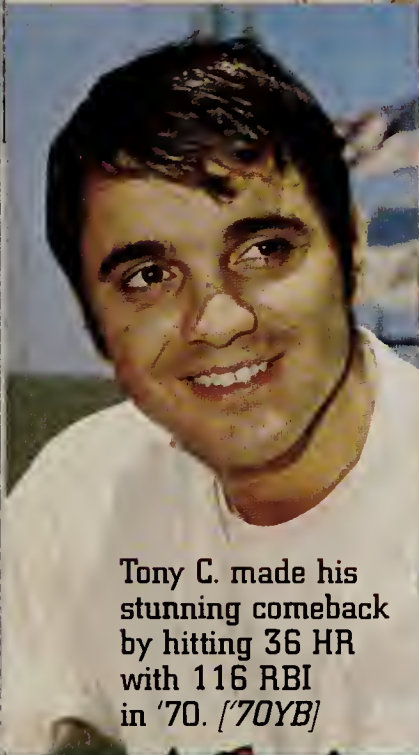

Reggie Smith emerged with 25 HR and 93 RBI in '69. ['69YB]

Rico Petrocelli set an AL record for shortstops with 40 HR in '69. ['69YB]

Tony C. made his stunning comeback by hitting 36 HR with 116 RBI in '70. ['70YB]

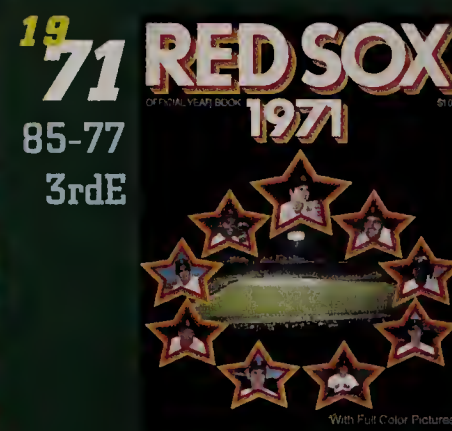

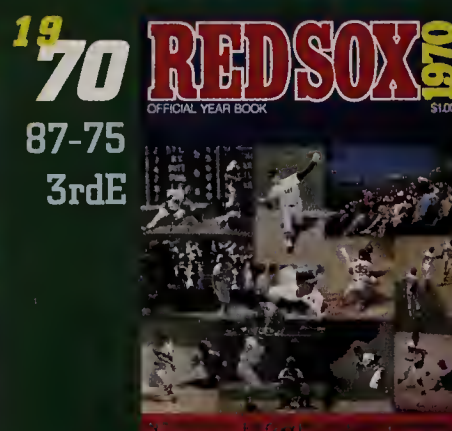

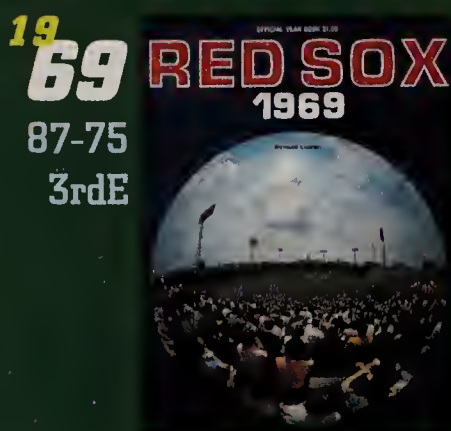

Some of "The Greatest Red Sox Team Ever", as voted by Red Sox fans, were honored at Fenway [from left]: Bobby Doerr (second base); Frank Malzone (third base); Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn; Joe Cronin (shortstop); Lefty Grove (left hand pitcher); Birdie Tebbetts (catcher); Carl Yastrzemski (outfielder); and Ted Williams (outfielder). ['70YB]

Carlton Fisk hit his first home run in '71; he won the AL Rookie of the Year Award in '72. ['72YB]

The '69 Yearbook was the first to feature full page 'bleed' photos of Sox players (Tony Conigliaro, Culp, Harrelson, Lonborg, Reggie Smith and Yaz)... "Suitable for Framing".

Carlton Fisk took the impact from Yankees' catcher Thurman Munson in '73...

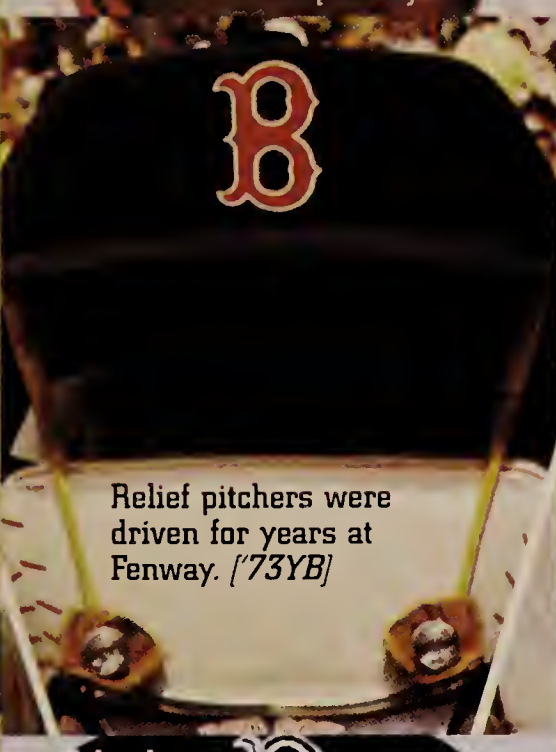

...which began their personal arch-enemy relationship...

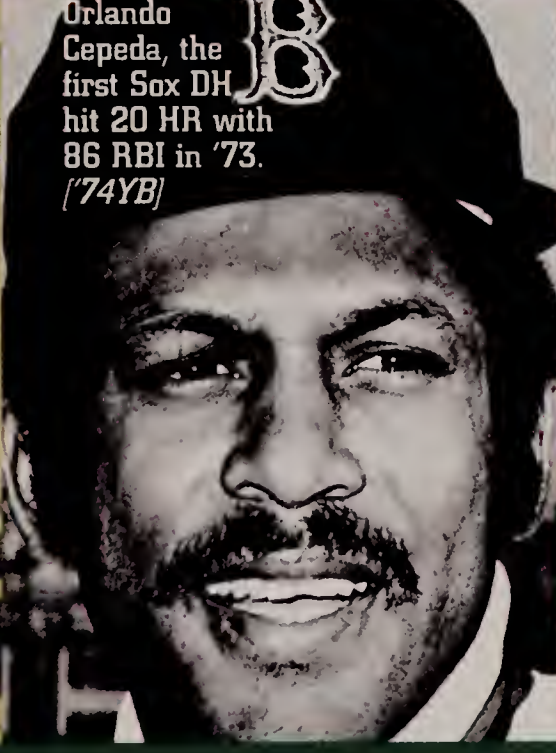

...and helped re-kindle the best team rivalry in baseball. ['74YB]

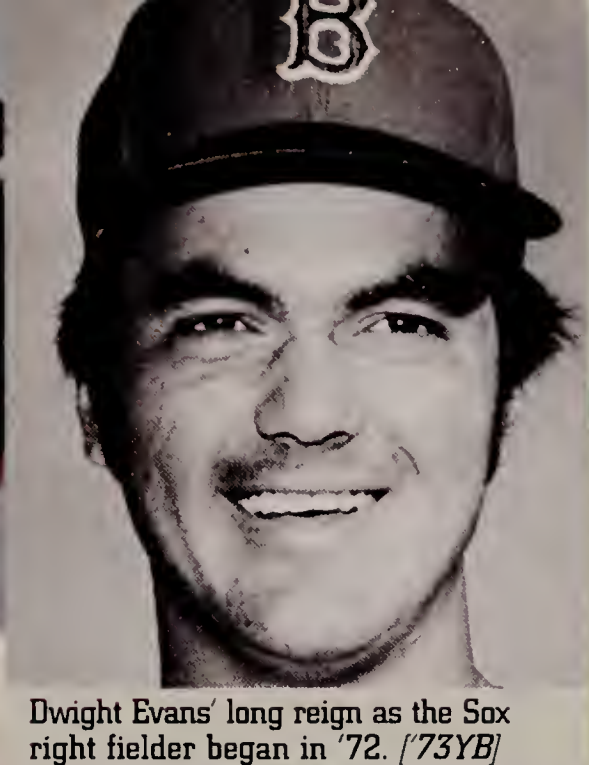

Luis Tiant returned from years of rehab in '72 to win 15 G with an AL-best 1.91 ERA; he then won 20 in '73 and 22 in '74. ['73YB]

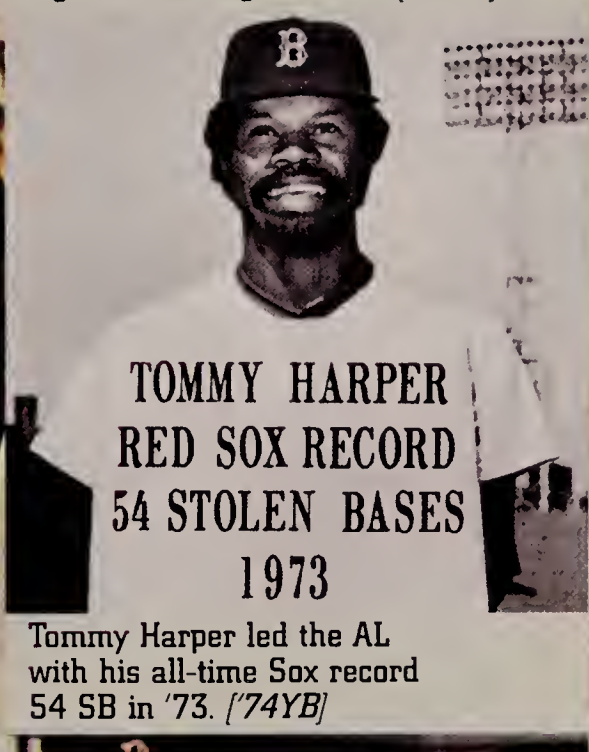

Relief pitchers were driven for years at Fenway. ['73YB]

Orlando Cepeda, the first Sox DH hit 20 HR with 86 RBI in '73. ['74YB]

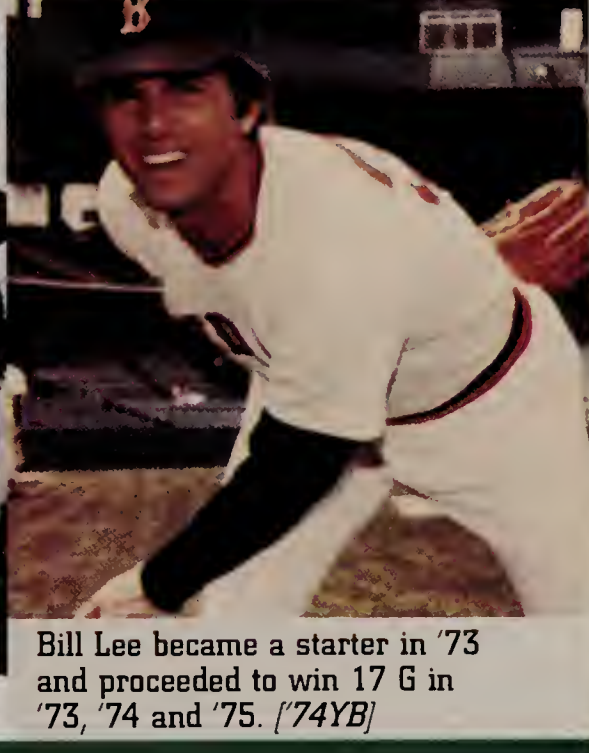

Dwight Evans' long reign as the Sox right fielder began in '72. ['73YB]

The "Gold Dust Twins" — Rice and Lynn — took a talented Sox team to the next level in '75... including to the best World Series ever played.

How prescient. ['76YB]

THIS IS OUR YEAR

Jim Rice, in his rookie season of '75, hit .309 with 22 HR and 102 RBI and he played errorless ball in left field; his season ended on 9/21/75 after his arm was broken by a pitched ball, and he missed the entire post-season play. ['76YB]

Fred Lynn (who, mysteriously, did not appear in the '75 Yearbook!) won the '75 AL MVP Award and AL Rookie of the Year by hitting .331 with a AL-leading 47 Doubles and 103 Runs; he also won the first of his four Gold Gloves for the Sox in center field. ['76YB]

Carl Yastrzemski excelled in post-season play, hitting .455 in the '75 ALCS and .310 in the World Series. ['76YB]

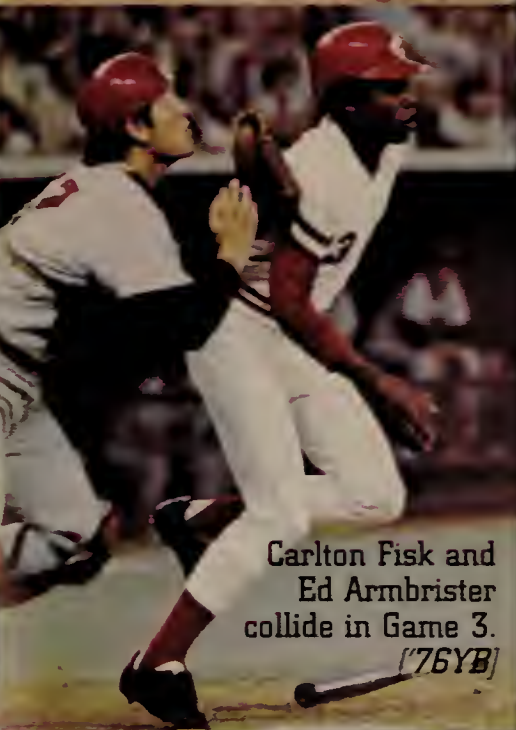

Luis Tiant won 2 '75 World Series games and ran the bases with grace. ['76YB]

Bernie Carbo sailed after his 3-run HR in the 8th inning of the '75 World Series Game 6 tied the score. ['76YB]

Carlton Fisk beamed after his 12th inning HR won '75 World Series Game 6. ['76YB]

Rick Burleson took over as full-time shortstop in '75, sparking the defense with his fiery play. ['76YB]

Carlton Fisk and Ed Armbrister collide in Game 3. ['76YB]

In '76, it was back to 48 pages and full color... and the price doubled to $2.00. The '87 Yearbook grew to a record 76 pages and, for the first time, the interior pages were printed on a 'free-sheet' stock... a much higher quality paper with a shinier finish, ideal for displaying the 100-plus four-color photos and images. In addition, the '87 cover stock was increased in weight to provide more protection for long-term souvenir collectors. The price increased to $5.00.

A silver Land Rover Freelander is shown from a front-three-quarter perspective, driving on a road. The car's headlights are on, and the 'LAND ROVER' badge is visible on the front grille. The background is a blurred landscape, suggesting motion.

Fifty years of global exploration can be a hard act to follow. Unless you happen to be driving a Freelander, the most recent addition to our celebrated family. With Hill Descent Control and permanent all-wheel drive, the Freelander exhibits superb off-road chops. While a five-speed automatic transmission with CommandShift and a lively 24-valve, V6 engine conspire to make short work of all that pesky asphalt. It's not another SUV. It's a Land Rover.
